

I am a listener of various stations. I believe that Christian radio is unlike other radio stations that are regulated by the FCC. Their main source of income is the listener. As a listener I have deep heart ache for these radio stations trying to keep their heads above water and spread the positive message of salvation. Now more rules are trying to be pushed to regulate the message?

This is stupid. People all over pray and pay the expenses of these radio stations for this very reason. The message. People who do not want to hear the message avoid the stations all together. So why? Money hungry Big Government. It has to stop.

Leave the Christian radio stations alone!
