

It has been brought to my attention that there are some troubling new regulations that threaten to impede upon our first ammendment rights. Our country is first and foremost founded on the freedom to speak our religious beliefs without censorship. This includes radio stations being guaranteed their rights to freely speak their beliefs without interference from the government.