

I would like to thank the FCC for all they do in supporting the freedom of speech while at the same time controlling those broadcasts that are hateful or destructive to our communities. That is why I support Christian radio stations such as KLOVE because their broadcasting is like a lifeline to the community. Reaching many religions and cultures with positive messages and hope. Consistently encouraging the individual to reach out to help others. That is why I hope the FCC will do whatever is necessary to keep stations such as KLOVE up and running with as few obstacles as possible. Thank you for your time.
