

The constitution states freedom of speech, forcing the radio stations to consider something that will put many out of business is not the American way. We are all about diversity and freedom, or so I thought. We all know that putting machines in place of humans takes the opportunity away from yet another capable human.