"NO ONE SHOULD HAVE THE RIGHT TO INTERFERE OR CONTROL ANY PART OF THE NET. IT IS THE LAST FREE, OPEN MEANS OF EXPRESSION AND COMMUNICATION WE HAVE LEFT. WE'VE SEEN AND ARE SUFFERING TOO MUCH OF THE CORRUPTION AND GREED OF BIG BUSINESS AND THEY SHOULD BE THE VERY LAST TO HAVE ANY CONTROL WHATSOEVER OF THE INTERNET OR ANY OTHER PUBLIC ASSET WE HAVE LEFT. THE VERY THOUGHT FILLS ME WITH RAGE."

"Who would have ever imagined that we would have an issue like this on the table? Phone companies wouldn't be here at all if it weren't for Edison. Edison would not have made the phone if he was limited in his thinking, communicating or creating. The more we let corporations limit our thinking, communicating and creating, the less all of us will have in the future, and that includes corporations. Which one of you so-called representatives will use your power to protect something, rather than enable the Big Boys, to get bigger? How much damage will you all do, by the time there is something left to protect? I believe all of you have lost your soul. "	John Markowitz New York, NY 10024

"1. The current manner of operation of the internet HAS RESULTED IN ONE OF THE GREATEST INNOVATIVE SPURTS OF THE PAST DECADE. 2. This model has led to growth, increased consumer satisfaction and much employment within the Information Technology field and allied computer-technology companies. 3. This level of success could not possibly have come about had the system been 'controlled' or 'managed' beyond the most rudimentary needs. 4. Any 'management' or 'consolidation' beyond what has already taken place WE SHOULD ANTICIPATE WILL BRING NOTHING BUT SLOWER GROWTH, LESS CONSUMER SATISFACTION, REDUCED INNOVATION AND LOSS OF EMPLOYMENT . 5. At this time the economy is stressed enough by higher oil prices, the declining value of the dollar and the huge outlay of funds for the war efforts. We don't need to burden ourselves additionally by placing unnecessary hindrances on what has proven to be a great success story."	John H. Humphrey Jackson Hts., NY 11372

Lois Stenzel Whitestone, NY 11357	"How would you like anything you needed to know on-line to be routed to a big ad campaign for some multinational company that does not let you into what you need to know? Think of that, losing your power of communicating the way you need? A big corporation re-routing you to their site, How would you like that? it is a kidnapping in reality, a criminal idea. The internet must remain as open as it is today, no one should own the way people communicate with each other or presume to substitute what they want you to know for what you need. This is a dangerous path. another big brother controlling what you do, and not letting you have freedom of your own choice. The big newspapers are now on one tickertape. News is fed from the same source. The internet is the only place to get to the sources that you know work for you. Why let any huge company who just wants to make more money have that power over you? It is absurd to give big companies power over the internet, and dangerous to freedom itself. Please do the right thing, save the internet's open construction and support net neutrality."

"With the exception of terrorist incentives/messages and content unsuitable for underage, freedom of speech must be preserved in a free society. We are already governed too much by the media conglomerates which the FCC has permitted to develop, which tend to push a point of view, no matter how well meaning. The internet should remain a place where content is free so far as the individual seeks it out. This is not to say that site pirating, etc. should be permitted to hijack browsers to sites other than intended!"

"The first amendment guarantees freedom of speech. We need not forget this very important part of our Constitution. Freedom of speech is meant for all, not just a selected few that happen to agree with what the President or others might think. We need net neutrality as well as freedom of the press in the old format of newspaper and TV as well. Actually this should not even be a topic of discussion, as it is already promised in our Constituion, particularly the "Bill of Rights." "

"First Amendment issues are just as important in text as it is in voice. Verizon's blocking of NARAL's text messaging campaign violates the principles of Free Speech and restricts my ability to communicate freely with the people and organizations of my choice. Today, text messages are also being used for political action alerts and health information, by individuals, corporations, and government institutions. Assurances that wireless carriers won't block political speech are slipping away from governments into the hand of what were once supposed to be "dumb pipes," thereby opening conflicts of interest issues, as well as antitrust violations. The FCC must take action to ensure that this does not happen again by allowing corporations to discriminate, and undermine rules which have long applied to phone calls, and now applicable to text messages and short codes. Expect security fear-mongering and bogus constitutional arguments once reserved for individuals, presumably with blood in their veins, not straw men created by incorporation. Don't let wireless carriers be gatekeepers that CAN FILTER OR BLOCK GOVERNMENT INFORMATION TO CONSTITUENTS in an instant, based on political strategy aimed at furthering their power. That power to discriminate content on mediums like text messaging is totalitarian and violates American values of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

“I support the broad concept of net neutrality and specifically the Internet Freedom Preservation Act of 2008 from Representatives Markey and Pickering. Powerful phone and cable companies should NOT be allowed to block, degrade, censor or discriminate against content with which they do not agree.”

“I am writing today to urge you to co-sponsor the Internet Freedom Preservation Act of 2008 (HR 5353) from Representatives Markey and Pickering. This important, bipartisan legislation protects the free-flowing Internet from blocking, censorship and discrimination by powerful phone and cable companies. Millions upon millions of Americans rely upon an open Internet in their daily lives. Our elected leaders must protect our basic right to communicate in order to foster the level playing field that has fostered growth in the tech sector in recent years. The legislation would prevent big phone and cable companies from degrading or stopping communications that do not agree with their political or business viewpoints. Please help in this effort by joining Reps. Markey and Pickering in support of the bipartisan Internet Freedom Preservation Act. After all, what good is free speech if powerful corporations have the ability to shut off or slow down viewpoints they find objectionable? ”

It is certainly the only way to get non-corporate slanted news, research, and investigative results. I am not being overly paranoid when I say that we are well on the road to fascism in the USA, and loss of a free and neutral Internet will certainly hasten that terrible future. I cannot think other than that many Representatives in the House, as well as Senators, know this. However, if they are not for a free and democratic Republic, then they are against it. Please, stand up and represent we, The People! I am counting on you and whichever of our "representatives" remains true to their oaths to protect the Constitution, the Rule of Law, and our many freedoms, including free speech: it's what the Internet should be. This issue is as important to New Mexicans (and all Americans) as is adequate, affordable health care, environmental contamination, the wasting of our rivers, and most of all, putting food on the table every day. Even though our state is poor, many of us are activists who rely on an open, uncensored, un-spied upon Internet and Broadband. "The past seven years have demonstrated how an Administration plus a complicit and compliant congress prove a conscientious destroyer of freedoms, liberties and even our Constitution. The internet has proved a last frontier in the easy proliferation and dissemination of unadulterated news and information that has been omitted, obliterated or distorted by the main stream media who have increasingly become corporatized, corrupted and destroyed by privatizing, manipulating and consolidation. "This is the United States of America where freedom of information is protected by law. It is not the right, duty or responsibility of any corporation to deter or destroy the free flow of ideas, communication, and information among the citizens. To do so is to insure the death not only of democracy but also our power as a nation state among world nations. It is essentially suicidal to all our ideals and abilities to compete in a world market where education and access to the tools and competing ideas of all kinds will determine our powers to create the means of our survival and ultimate triumphs. History has shown that when the power is concentrated in the hands of the few the destiny of all is threatened and ultimately that nation state weakens itself and is overcome.
