

I believe that the FCC is overstepping its bounds. We do not need our voices silenced in this underhanded way. The fairness doctrine is not fair and any attempt to reinstate it, whether through legislation or this tactic is UNAMERICAN. We need to keep our rights of free speech, the airwaves are used for free speech. I do not agree with everything said on the radio, but we cannot let committees decide on issues of this nature.

Ideas and words that we disagree with were not meant to be silenced, the First Amendment guarantees our right to say them. If we do not like a particular group's speech we have the right to not listen, we do not have the right to silence their speech. I still believe in this nation, and I for one believe the FCC will leave things as they are and will not adopt this rule. May God Bless America, the land of the free and the home of the brave.
