

What this country does not need is more regulations and a committee to decide what others should think and do. Any advisory board should have their own program to give their point of view and not infringe on other's freedom.