

Do not change the rules so certain people can change programming they do not agree with. If they do not like what they are listening to they can change the channel. Why is it that people that want a more diverse society want to silence Christianity? If the changes are put in place will the government allow Christian groups on these advisory boards!