

Dear Sirs,

Our family has greatly benefited from Christian broadcasting in our area. It is so reassuring to hear God's message on the radio. Our children and now our grandchildren have learned a lot from such broadcasts.

We would ask that you do not go forward with the new demands, namely subjecting the content to a review board who governs what is said, that you allow technology to be used to allow a station to broadcast via satellite and not have a manned station, and to not require all the paperwork to monitor what is being broadcast.

We think the FCC could better use their time to see that our First Amendment rights are protected. Please don't take away this freedom.

Sincerely,

Clyta Bolze
