Dear FCC:

To All Concerned:

I have tried to be patient with the FCC delay in coming to a decision regarding the proposed Sirius/XM merger. It is no longer understandable that there is still no decision, especially following the DOJ approval SEVERAL weeks ago.

Yes, the issues surrounding this decision are complicated but that is no excuse for not coming to a decision by now, one way or the other. Either approve it or disapprove it, but make a decision. In my opinion, it has now become a matter of these two companies, their subscribers, and the shareholders being held hostage by the FCC and resulting in irreversible damage from a service and financial standpoint. The passive stand the FCC is taking is unacceptable is resulting in the FCC being responsible for undermining the best interest of the consumer (which is supposedly their purpose) rather than benefiting the consumer.

I am a subscriber of satellite radio, a shareholder of stock, and a U.S. citizen and feel that I have been personally neglected and assaulted in each respect by the FCC.

Thank you for your attention to this matter and taking into consideration these feelings.

Sincerely,

Trueman G. Friend
