Dear Communications Commission,

Local radio has all but disappeared from the dial in recent decades. LPFM stations bring community voices back to the airwaves. I strongly urge you to prioritize local programming on LPFM stations over satellite-fed translators across the country. I encourage the Commission to establish rules that fairly promote local ownership and programming over repeated signals from faraway stations. I live in rural Alaska and local radio is crucial to the health and safety of my community. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Dear Communications Commission,

It is a tragic fact that local radio has been displaced by media conglomerates, leaving homogenous, ignorant commercial drivel. Developing LPFM stations can bring community voices back to the airwaves and re-vitalize diverse news and information.

I urgently request that you prioritize local programming on LPFM stations over satellite-fed translators across the country. For the sake of American democracy the Commission must establish rules that fairly promote local ownership and programming.

Thank you.

Dear Communications Commission,

The FCC recently seems to have lost all sense of purpose and direction as the safeguard of freedom of speech and thus the first amendment. What has happened to the fairness doctrine? What has happened to guarantees that minorities and just opposing views may be heard? We are at a stage where a government agency dominated by special interest groups and entrenched administrators can now completely dominate media in any city and eliminate anyone station, newspaper, or other periodical from the exchange of ideas. This DESTROYS the function of an informed electorate and ultimately of all legitimate democratic processes. We are looking more and more like the enemies - imagined or otherwise - that we fight. What we criticize in them we are becoming. Shame! Do the right thing!

Local radio has all but disappeared from the dial in recent decades. LPFM stations bring community voices back to the airwaves.

I strongly urge you to prioritize local programming on LPFM stations over satellite-fed translators across the country. I encourage the Commission to establish rules that fairly promote local ownership and programming over repeated signals from faraway stations. Thank you.

Dear Communications Commission,

Local radio has all but disappeared from the dial in recent decades. LPFM stations bring community voices back to the airwaves. I also encourage the reduction of multiplicity rules with respect to station ownership, with a rollback to pre-1995 ownership rules. I strongly urge you to prioritize local programming on LPFM stations over satellite-fed translators across the country. I encourage the Commission to establish rules that fairly promote local ownership and programming over repeated signals from faraway stations. Thank you. America used to have MANY independent voices on the air, between the various on-air talent and the editorial staff of local stations. These voices have been silenced and replaced with national "corporate" voices, who do NOT offer equal local or national time for the presentation of opposing views. This is undemocratic, but then again, there's little democracy left in America anyway. I believe our forefathers would agree that it's time for another Revolution.
