

I would greatly appreciate any action that the FCC would take on the matter of non-initialized cell phones. Every day we take emergency calls, as a telcommunicater it is very frustrating when you get a call not knowing weather it be a prank or not and you can't call them back.