

I live in the country with no cable so I won't have TV any more I'll have to start reading books or go in town to the bars and I don't drink much. Then I 'LI get arrested driving home and end up in jail.

Seriously this will be a real problem. I will not be able to watch any of the local news programs or get any of the local channels and will be forced to buy satellite tv. Which i can't afford with the rising taxes. (Satellite does not give you local channels) I have a hard time believing your going to do this but i guess it's true. All I can think is that big business is trying to get more paying costumers. Low income people my be not able to watch tv any more in my opinion. You must try to find another solution this is not going to work.

Respectively your Dom Scolaro