Dear FCC:

The government approves the Exxon/mobile merger without question that clearly benefits the oil companies with record profits and gauges every American while waiting nearly two years to decide on a satellite radio merger. What nonsense. Where's the logic. I could have saved over $150.00 dollars already by choosing a tiered package but yet we wait daily for the FCC to decide on how much of the satellite companies can be given away for free. This government sucks already, it's all about how much money the lobbyists groups can put in an official's pocket. This is way drawn out, either approve or deny it already.

Sincerely,
