

I think that this shows how growth of American companies are being held back at great cost and expense to the American people. If this small merger takes this amount of time to be approved at such cost, how are we to grow as a country. Approve this and get on to bigger and more important things.....