

How is it possible that the Sirius/XM merger has yet to be approved. Oh right, it's 'anti-competitive' and 'bad for the consumer.' Right? Is that right? I am a consumer and actively listen to satellite radio, terrestrial radio, c.d's, mp3's and watch dvd's while driving and at home.... Explain to us again why this proposed merger is anti-competitive. Oil companies 3 months. Two small satellite radio companies 2 years! This is unbelievable. How can the FCC possibly get a way with this, especially after it passed through the anti-trust committee. Oh wait, I know, Lobbyist!

This is ridiculous. Heaven forbid two companies like to make money and the FCC isn't able to get a slice of the pie.
