

If the purpose of this "localism" initiative is to "hush Rush" then it is a bad idea. Let the local radio stations determine how to best meet the local market's needs. That is what Internet websites and daily newspapers have to do, and it works.