

I am very much against the purchasing of Channel 6 in the Miami area by the parent company that already owns Channel 10 in the same market. First of all, Channel 6 is the oldest channel in the Miami area, and serves this community very well. Second, by the same company owning 2 channels, it reduces a very important viewpoint about politics and everything else in this area. Third, even though they said that was going to be otherwise, a lot of people who have served a long time, will be unemployed.
