

In light of the economic mess caused largely by deregulation and ignorance of anti-trust laws, it is amazing that "media moguls" would be allowed and encouraged by the FCC to create "media monopolies". This violates the public trust, stifles competition, and polarizes the media. I can only hope that Barack Obama appoints new leaders in the FCC to reverse this ugly trend of deregulation.