Please don't force Comcast to add NFL to their lower digital tier. There are already too many stations that I am forced to pay for that I do not wish to receive. When is a la carte pricing going to happen? (Docket - 04-207)

I do not care for MTV, sports channels, religious channels, etc. There are only about 6 non-broadcast channels that I care for - so why should I pay for the rest? Cable costs are going up much faster than inflation, and part of that is because the cable companies are adding stations I could care less for.

Respectfully Yours,

Dave Legrow
