

I would like to express my outrage that during the Feb. 18 tornadoes and severe weather, the WSBTV newscast was interrupted at least ten times by EAS alerts. I can appreciate that the system was designed to help alert us to impending severe weather. But when a detailed, up to the minute weather report is giving me information on what is happening right on my street, I shouldn't get interrupted by a black screen with information that is useless to me at that moment, the EAS ALERT IS HURTING ME RATHER THAN HELPING ME!!!

Today with the impending severe weather in the forecast I would like to ask you to change your policies and alert methods to allow me to watch weather reports uninterrupted during severe weather.

Thank you
