

The TV Guardian technology has been greatly beneficial to my family! It allows us to watch movies without worrying about what language our children might have to hear. It might also help improve closed captioning which would enhance viewing for older people, like my grandmother who cannot hear well but watches TV with closed captioning.