

TVGuardian technology has made a difference in my life and the life of my children by being able to enjoy movies as a family and not have to be concerned about profanity or pornography that is in some good movies but not necessary to be able to enjoy.

I would like to see it more widely available in electronic equipment.

The closed-captioning is accurate enough to be useful as I have watched several movies that used it and it was an enjoyable experience.

If TVGuardian technology were not added to these devices and were no longer available I would not watch movies probably at all and would limit some enjoyable time w/my family.

TV Guardian would be helpful for my family to enjoy movies on the internet or in Ipods....it's more popular than TV w/our children and more mobile for trips, etc.

I would be willing to pay a few dollars each month for the TVGuardian feature in cable/satellite, if that is the only way these companies would offer it