

I think it would be a very valuable and important tool to have something like the TV Guardian required for our all TV viewing. This would greatly help mediate the great decency vs. free speech debate by providing an avenue for individual, voluntary censorship that goes beyond an all-or-nothing watch or don't watch.