

I am really concerned about what is on television now. My family rarely watched television because of the language. If we could have the foul language taken out we would watch more television.

Sincerely,

Melissa Williams