Dear FCC Representative:

Please continue the use of foul language-filtering technology with the on-set of high-definition programming. I believe that our society has dropped its standards to the point that some overlook indecency and vulgarity on television and in the movies. I for one, cannot look the other way, and urge your commission to do all that is within its power to thoroughly represent the majority of Americans whom you serve. I strongly support at least the capability for parents to filter television made available to their children.

Thank You,

JOHN CUMMINS
