

I find it ridiculous to have to address this. But, due to the foul language that you seem to think is ok to be broadcast publicly, I believe it should be mandatory for cable/satellite companies to provide (free of charge) a filtering device!