

Please give parents the right to filter what is watched in their own homes. There is still an element of common decency in our culture even though the media seems to have lost their sense of it.