

Why are we not given to option to keep foul language out of our own homes? What do you care what we do in our homes and how should it bother you personally