

A Requiem for the Internet

Alas, I feel that this open and unlimited source of connection and information will be seized and restricted from us all. With all of our power and words, Big Brother is watching and learning our deepest intellect; withdrawing us from our Ego's and Eco's, our spirit, our freedom to express ourselves and adding a monetary value to it.

WE HAVE NO CONTROL!!! But our spirits will never be controlled unless we let them control it. Even the internet can download our souls into its endless streams, aka Download Syndrome.

GOD SPEED to all!!
