

I would like to see foul language filtering technology on TV, internet, cable, satellite, dvd players, blu-ray players, gaming consoles or other video devices. Parents should have the option of using these parenting tools; that's just good business.