

The main problem is lack of competition. If the state and local laws that make competition illegal were nullified, maybe competition would spring up.