

I have just lodged a complaint about spam faxes being sent out by Effective Computer Training, FCC Reference # 09-T00374938. I have filed complaints in the past and nothing happened. Do a search on this company and you will see numerous people complaining about them also. They are also complaining about the fact that it appears complaints filed with the FCC go nowhere. I doubt anything will come of my complaint. Chalk it up to typical government work.

Obviously these spammers have little fear of anything happening to them or else they wouldn't openly violate the law with these illegal faxes. So keep up the good work and I will chalk up this waste of time to a little venting therapy
