

I am writing to express my opposition to commercial radio broadcasts designed for school buses, such as BusRadio. As a parent, I would like to monitor the advertising and music my children hear and this type of "service" takes away that control. I am especially concerned that BusRadio plays music that may not be appropriate for children and also airs advertising promoting products and TV shows that are sexual and/or violent.