

I am strongly opposed to forcing children to listen to advertising on their school bus. It is such a struggle for parents to monitor and limit the amount of advertising their children are exposed to already. Bus Radio undermines parents who try to shield their children from inappropriate content and marketing messages. Children are exposed to enough commercial media during the day already. Please don't allow compulsory exposure during school bus rides.