

I'd actually sign up for cable if I could get it a la carte.

There's just too much junk; even the basic package isn't worth it.

Sure, some channels would fail--but free market principles are what made this country great. LONG LIVE FREE ENTERPRISE!