Description of Transaction,
Public Interest Showing and Related Demonstrations

Filed with the Federal Communications Commission
May 22, 2009

INTRODUCTION AND EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

AT&T is seeking the Commission's approval to purchase wireless systems serving 1.5 million customers in 18 states from Verizon Wireless, which is selling the systems to meet divestiture obligations from its merger with ALLTEL. As a result of this transaction, AT&T will for the first time provide wireless service -- including 3G UMTS broadband services -- to consumers in 49 cellular market areas ("CMAs") across large parts of Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Kansas, and surrounding states. AT&T also will expand its currently small presence in 30 other CMAs.

There is no question that this transaction will bring the kinds of consumer and public interest benefits that the Commission has recognized in the past -- and that it will do so primarily in rural areas. The transaction will also enhance competition in the market for mobile telephony/broadband services, and will not harm competition in any market.

The rural communities affected by this transaction will benefit from having AT&T as a more vibrant competitor. In particular, as customers are migrated to GSM, AT&T will be able to offer them access to its 3G broadband network and an industry-leading Wi-Fi network with nearly 20,000 hotspots in the United States and more than 80,000 worldwide. Moreover, these customers will enjoy a host of improved services and features, such as rollover minutes; free mobile-to-mobile calling to 78 million lines; a wide choice of pricing plans; reduced roaming charges due to AT&T's vast calling area; a broad array of handsets; and the best wireless coverage worldwide, including international roaming voice services in more than 215 countries, data services in more than 170 countries, and 3G services in more than 80 countries. In addition, rural customers should benefit greatly due to AT&T's significant disaster response capabilities.

The benefits of the transaction will not be limited to the customers of the divested systems. Rather, all AT&T customers will be able to enjoy an improved calling experience from the enhanced network coverage that will result from this transaction. The increased amount of “on-net” coverage also will reduce the marginal cost of providing service, and the Commission has repeatedly recognized that such cost reductions will benefit consumers.

This highly complementary transaction raises no competitive issues. AT&T will be a new entrant in most of those CMAs, and has only a small presence in the others. Competition thus will be enhanced, with AT&T and Verizon Wireless competing head-to-head in each CMA -- as well as against other competitors. There are also no spectrum aggregation concerns, since the Commission’s initial spectrum screen is not even reached in 77 of the 79 CMAs, and numerous competitors and potential competitors hold spectrum in the remaining CMA.

In view of the clear public interest benefits, as well as the absence of competitive harm, these applications should be approved quickly and without conditions.

I. OVERVIEW

These Applications<sup>1</sup> seek the Commission's approval of the assignment or transfer from Cellco Partnership d/b/a Verizon Wireless ("Verizon Wireless") to AT&T Inc. ("AT&T") of certain cellular, PCS, AWS, and microwave licenses located mostly in rural areas in parts of 18 states, together with derivative international Section 214 authority.<sup>2</sup> This transaction implements most of the divestitures required by the Commission and the Department of Justice ("DOJ") as a condition to approval of Verizon Wireless's acquisition of ALLTEL Corporation ("ALLTEL").<sup>3</sup> As shown below, the proposed transaction provides public interest benefits and increases competition. The Commission therefore should approve these Applications quickly without any conditions.
