

I support a la carte service. Cable and satellite service pricing continues to climb to outrageous levels. To control costs, meet my budget constraints and view the channels I want to watch, I feel I should have the ability to choose my channels at reasonable prices.