

I had a converter box up and running before the 6/13 change to DTV. With the change, I immediately lost most of my stations. Working with my antenna, I have solved MOST but not all. I do not think DTV is as effective this hurricane season as analog was in the last hurricane season. Aside from entertainment, severe weather is my main reason to have television at all.