

I don't believe GTL can block you for having a local phone number. I work for Verizon and know that they are government-federally regulated. I think they are violating my rights.