

I think there is too much violence on TV. I am having a hard time finding decent programs and I only can imagine how we are effecting the minds of our children. They are become de-sensitized to violence. This along with their violent video games is creating a generation of more violent adult individuals.