Subject: Appeal of USAC Funding Decision – Docket 02-6

Request for Review

Applicant: Paramus Catholic High School
BEN 7792
Application 657028
FRN 1798009 and 1798010
SPIN: 143000093 – XO Communications Inc.

Summary

During the 2009 - 2010 E-Rate application year, Paramus Catholic High School submitted their application with the incorrect discount numbers. On Paramus Catholic High School's application, they listed total number of students as 1585 and 0 of those where eligible for free and reduced lunch. These numbers where provided to their consultant by the school's new Technology Director who was unaware of the schools participation in the Free and Reduced Lunch Program. These original numbers where verified by the school's consultant with the Technology Director because in previous years the school was at a 40% discount level and participated in the Free and Reduced Program. The numbers were said to have been correct and were submitted to USAC on their application for review and subsequently approved.

Paramus Catholic High School's 2009-2010 application was a very simple straightforward application for telecommunications Service and internet access only. Because of its simplistic nature, neither the applicant nor the consultants were ever contacted to provide any further details about the application. Once the consultant received the FCDL, they forwarded it to the school for the School's records and to let them know that they could contact their service providers and start to receive discounts if they choose. The FCDL was forwarded to the Technology Director who in turn forwarded it to the Finance Director. After review by the Finance Director, it was concluded that the applicants discount was incorrect due to the fact that the Technology Director did not know about the Free and Reduced Lunch Program.

After being supplied with the applicants Free and Reduced Lunch Program Report, the Consultant was able to determine that the school had at least 75 students eligible for Free and Reduced Lunch, perhaps even more, and therefore was able to determine that 4.8% of the population was eligible therefore the applicants true discount should be 40%.

USAC Appeal Decision

USAC denied the schools appeal on the grounds that the FCC's Bishop Perry Order directs USAC to send all applicants a RAL once their 471 is data entered. This RAL allows Schools to make corrections to ministerial and clerical errors without filing a new form 471. USAC sent out a Receipt Acknowledgement Letter (RAL) on January 14, 2009 and this gave the school until February 3, 2009 to make any ministerial and clerical errors. Both the School and the consultant are aware of the RAL and received the RAL. However, a RAL could not be used in this instance, at the time of the receipt of the RAL neither the Consultant nor the school were aware that the discount level was in question.

USAC also stated that our appeal requests additional funds not included in the FCC form 471 and FCC rules require that funding requests must be submitted via the FCC form 471. "Consequently, USAC denies your appeal insofar as it requests funding that was not included in the FCC Form 471."

We understand the rule but argue that at the time the mistake was finally caught the 471 filing window was closed. We would also argue that this statement is not entirely true and is an example of USAC interpreting FCC rules in whatever way they feel necessary without any real public notice. Attached please find the latest News Brief from E-Rate Central September 7, 2009. In this brief E-Rate Central discusses the Bishop Perry Order and USAC's drastic change of its interpretation of its rules. Prior to the Bishop Perry order, E-Rate Central states, "there was virtually no circumstance under which an FRN could be changed in a manner that would increase the amount of the funding award in excess of the initial application requests." Since the release of the Bishop Perry Order in FY 2006, E-Rate Central States, "the number of 'increased' FRN's rose to over 350, with a total increase in committed funds of almost $1 million. In general, the increases were based on upward revisions of pre-discount amounts and/or discount rates (usually supported by better NSLP data that becomes available later in the school year)." We argue that in prior funding years USAC interpreted the Bishop Perry Order one way while in this Funding year they are interpreting it in an entirely different way. We are not arguing what way is correct but instead ask for some consistency and the same consideration that other applicants were awarded in previous years.

Conclusion

Paramus Catholic High School is a relatively small school with faculty and staff that do many different functions and do not always get the opportunity to check and double check information that they believe they know. Therefore, we are asking The FCC to side with the applicant and change their discount rate from 20% to 40%. We have included in this appeal Paramus Catholic High Schools FCDL, their LOA and their discount validation information. If you require any further information to evaluate this appeal please let me know.

Service providers are required to bill applicants for the non-discount portion. The FCC stated that requiring applicants to pay their share ensures efficiency and accountability in the program. If USAC is being billed via the FCC Form 474, the service provider must bill the applicant at the same time it bills USAC. If USAC is being billed via the FCC Form 472, the applicant pays the service provider in full (the non-discount plus discount portion) and then seeks reimbursement from USAC. If you are using a trade-in as part of your non-discount portion, please refer to our website for more information.

NOTICE ON RULES AND FUNDS AVAILABILITY

Applicants' receipt of funding commitments is contingent on their compliance with all statutory, regulatory, and procedural requirements of the Schools and Libraries Program. Applicants who have received funding commitments continue to be subject to audits and other reviews that USAC and/or the FCC may undertake periodically to assure that funds that have been committed are being used in accordance with all such requirements. USAC may be required to reduce or cancel funding commitments that were not issued in accordance with such requirements, whether due to action or inaction, including but not limited to that by USAC, the applicant, or the service provider. USAC, and other appropriate authorities (including but not limited to the FCC), may pursue enforcement actions and other means of recourse to collect improperly disbursed funds. The timing of payment of invoices may also be affected by the availability of funds based on the amount of funds collected from contributing telecommunications companies.

FY 2008 - FY 2009 Funding Status

Wave 19 for FY 2009 was released last week on September 3rd, for $195 million. Wave 20 is scheduled to be released on Tuesday, September 8th, for $56 million. This will bring cumulative FY 2009 funding to $986 million. The $1 billion mark will not be broken for at least two weeks, following the SLD's system upgrade process discussed below.

Both waves include Priority 2 funding at discount rates of 85% and above. Unlike past years, when Priority 2 funding was first announced, there has been no formal decision as to the discount level below which Priority 2 requests will not be funded (although there is an indication that 60% and below will be denied shortly). This should not be interpreted as an encouraging sign for those seeking Priority 2 funding below, or even at, 80%.

Wave 67 for FY 2008 is also scheduled to be released on Tuesday, September 8th, for $4.7 million. Total funding for FY 2008 is still $2.34 billion, including $371 million for New York. A decision has still not been made on the funding of Priority 2 services at 87%.

SLD Computer System Upgrade Status

As previously discussed, many of the SLD's online interactive filing and database resources will not be available during the computer system update period. These resources became unavailable at 5:00 p.m. EDT on September 1, 2009, and are targeted to remain unavailable until 9:00 a.m. EDT on September 14, 2009. According to the SLD, this means that:

- No Funding Commitment Decision Letters will be issued. [Note: to be more precise (since two funding waves will be released this Tuesday), no additional funding commitments can be finalized in preparation for FCDL releases.]
- No payment files will be run.
- No Form 470 may be posted ONLINE. However, you can still submit your Form 470 by mail ON PAPER, following the instructions in the form. Service providers will be able to submit Form 498 and Form 499 online. The system that processes these forms is not affected by the upgrade. USAC will process these forms as usual. Service providers will not be able to submit a SPI Form 474 online or approve a BEAR Form 472 online.
- Program forms on paper (Form 486, 472, 473, 474, or 500) as well as electronic (email) invoices can be submitted. USAC will hold these forms until the upgrade is complete.
- Most USAC website search tools are not available.
- Client Service Bureau has no access to online system. They will not be able to create or update entity number and information or provide status information on program forms or requests.
- You can submit any appeal as you would normally do. There is no impact on how appeals are submitted.
- You cannot use Submit a Question. You can fax or mail your Service Substitutions, SPIN Changes, Good Samaritans and other requests. USAC will process your request after the upgrade is complete. You should

- Form 486 deadline warnings

Major Change in Application Review Procedures

One of the most important FCC appeal decisions in the history of the E-rate program was the Bishop Perry Order in 2006. Besides granting 196 appeals of funding denials resulting from "clerical and ministerial errors" in applications, the FCC directed USAC to change its procedures going forward to help prevent similarly unnecessary denials.

As a result of this directive, SLD application review procedures were changed drastically. By permitting changes — even if they increased the amount of funding requested — the E-rate program became markedly more user-friendly. Changes were accepted, not only during the Receipt Acknowledgment Letter ("RAL") period immediately following application submission, but later on during the Program Integrity Assurance ("PIA") application review process.

Only recently has it become apparent that the SLD's procedures have been drastically changed so as to no longer permit application corrections during the PIA process that would increase funding amounts. Under a stricter interpretation of the Bishop Perry decision, the SLD will accept increased funding changes only as a part of the RAL process.

Since this procedural change was made without any public notice or explanation, we can only speculate as to the underlying rationale. The two most important points are discussed below.

Bishop Perry Guidance:

With regard to PIA application review procedures, the critical paragraph of the Bishop Perry decision reads as follows:

23. Additional Processing Directives for USAC. As of the effective date of this Order, we require USAC to provide all E-rate applicants with an opportunity to cure ministerial and clerical errors on their FCC Form 470 or FCC Form 471, and an additional opportunity to file the required certifications. Specifically, USAC shall inform applicants promptly in writing of any and all ministerial or clerical errors that are detected in their applications, along with a clear and specific explanation of how the applicant can remedy those errors... Applicants shall have 15 calendar days from the date of receipt of notice in writing by USAC to amend or refile their FCC Form 470, FCC Form 471 or associated certifications. USAC shall apply this directive to all pending applications and appeals even if such applications or appeals are no longer within the filing window. The 15-day period is limited enough to ensure that funding decisions are not unreasonably delayed for E-rate applicants and should be sufficient time to correct truly unintentional ministerial and clerical errors. The opportunity for applicants to amend their filings to cure minor errors will also improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the Fund... If USAC helps applicants file correct and complete applications initially, USAC should be able to reduce the money it spends on administering the fund because fewer appeals will be filed protesting the denial of funding for these types of issues...

USAC's initial interpretation of this guidance led to procedures permitting an applicant to correct — and increase, if necessary — funding requests at any time between application submittal and PIA review. Not surprisingly, we believe that most of these corrections were made during the PIA review process when both the SLD and the applicant focused more fully on the details of the funding request(s).

The new application review procedures are apparently based on a much stricter interpretation of the Bishop Perry guidance. Specifically, USAC now believes that the 15-day RAL correction process fulfills the requirement to notify an applicant in writing of its right to correct its application — even if the RAL does not actually inform the applicant of "any and all ministerial or clerical errors that are detected in their applications." What is not yet clear is whether these new procedures apply to any errors found during PIA review, such as those leading the funding denials, or only to such errors that would increase funding.

To understand why the interpretation was changed, if only for increased funding, it is useful to examine the impact on funding engendered by the initial, more flexible, procedures.

History of Increased Funding Changes:

Prior to the Bishop Perry decision, there were virtually no circumstances under which an FRN could be changed in a manner that would increase the amount of funding awarded in excess of the initial application requests. In FY 2005, for example, the funding year that was just ending when the Bishop Perry decision was released, we can find only six instances in which any aspect of an FRN (such as a discount rate) was increased during PIA review. In five of these cases, there were offsetting changes made such that the actual FRN funding awards were reduced or remained the same. In only one case was a funding award actually increased by $57 thousand — in an application that was not approved until November 1, 2006, well after the Bishop Perry decision.

In FY 2006, the funding year that was midway through PIA review when the Bishop Perry decision was released, the number of "increased" FRNs rose to over 350, with a total increase in committed funds of almost $1 million. In general, the increases were based on upward revisions of pre-discount amounts and/or discount rates (usually supported by better NSLP data that becomes available later in the school year).

The number of "increased" FRNs and associated funding amounts rose sharply in FY 2007 and FY 2008 — a trend we would have expected to see continue into FY 2009 had PIA review procedures not been changed this summer.

One measure — albeit conservative — of the increased funding resulting from the original Bishop Perry procedures is shown in the following table. Please note that these numbers reflect only those funded FRNs for which the SLD's DRT database shows committed amounts in excess of the original requested amounts and for which the associated FCDL text indicates "increased" funding. A broader analysis, more difficult to glean from SLD data, would undoubtedly show a greater Bishop Perry impact, including other FRNs that would otherwise have been denied or reduced. The trend, however, is clear.

Funded FRNs "Increased:" FY 2005–2009

Summary of Actual Increases
Funding Year	No. FRNs	Amount of Increases
2005	1	$ 57,067
2006	359	900,975
2007	1,524	5,783,276
2008	5,154	6,671,243
2009	842	624,814
Total	7,880	$ 14,037,374

Most would agree that applicants should be able to correct mistakes in order to receive proper funding. The biggest challenge this presents to the SLD, however, is being able to accurately predict the total demand for funds in any given year, if only to set the discount level threshold for Priority 2 funding. Funding increases during PIA turn total demand into a moving target.

Although the SLD should be able to handle increases of the order of magnitude indicated in the table above, there are indications that some applicants were seeking post-filing changes in Block 4 discount rates sufficient to obtain large amounts of Priority 2 funding. This may have caused significant demand management problems for both USAC and the FCC. In the process of denying these change requests — currently under appeal — we believe a decision was made to deny all post-RAL increases. Unfortunately, in our view, this meant taking a sledgehammer, rather than a scalpel, approach to an otherwise beneficial application review procedure.
