

I am writing to complain about the Apple iPhone and iTouch. Apple has continually blocked software from being able to be installed on it, apps that I need for my work and school, even though they advertise "Anything you need, theres an app for that".

If microsoft wouldnt allow Apples Safari web browser to be installed, theyd be sued and b in big trouble with the FCC.

Why is the iPhone computer any different? If i want to be able to write apps for my school productivity, why can apple prevent me from being apple to run software on my own computer that i paid for?
