

As a homeowner in a community affected by a bulk-service contract with Brighthouse Networks, I feel compelled to comment. Allowing a developer MI Homes, Inc. to commit a Homeowner Association to a ten-year contract when no homeowners are represented in the association seems a little self-serving and perhaps representative of anti-competitive practices. Most of us realize our individual unit costs may or will increase, but at least we are allowed a choice of service providers. Thank you