

Dear FCC - This letter is to ask the FCC to hold the line against the MPAA regarding their intent to continue to selectively control output streams for those of us who were early adopters of analog DVD and analog big screen televisions. My collection of dvd's is close to 400 and I have never bought or pirated copies of any form of media. For Hollywood to hold me, and millions of others, "hostages to analog" output in this day and age of digital media is simply unfair and an unreasonable (illegal?) mandate by them. For me to upgrade my system in order to enjoy Blu-ray would cost thousands of dollars - and based on the size of my analog dvd collection, I feel I have already given more than enough money to the movie studios so have thus "earned my right" to enjoy this new technology. Thank you for allowing me to offer comments to the FCC. Sincerely, (and perhaps on behalf of millions) Mike Malia Daytona Beach, Fl. ,
