

It should be illegal to have any termination fee. When someone terminates they do not want the services and should not be charged for it. Any contract document setting up such long time contracts including termination fee etc should be ethically, and legally void. This disclosure should be required on all contracts.