

Comcast says "This change does not affect your monthly Comcast Digital Voice and/or Comcast Highspeed Internet services prices". While they are not raising the service price. Increasing the monthly rental charge for a broadband modem that is already installed in our house - is increasing what I need to pay to make the high speed internet service work. This is a deceptive statement. Amazon sells the same modem for $130, Comcast must pay much less, so at $5 a month, they are making pure profit much sooner. In NH, our other option is Fairpoint and that is not a company I want to be depending on for my long term communications requirements.
