Dear Commissioners:

I am writing today to express my concern over proposed network neutrality rules and their potentially harmful impact to the businesses and consumers in my district.

As I am sure you are already aware, more and more people depend on the wireless industry and Internet for their employment, business, educational, and entertainment needs. Despite a gloomy economy, this industry is thriving, and the opportunities to participate in this field are great. Not only does this industry provide jobs to our communities now, with all of the rapid advancements that have been made in this area over the last several years, it is exciting to think what new opportunities may exist in the future. More and more individuals rely on the wireless industry and Internet to better their lives, and with this dependence comes a demand for better services. Any type of regulation in this sector, I fear, would only inhibit innovations in this area and stifle any additional growth this industry could see.

The whole network neutrality argument is one for more prosperous times. Right now, we need to focus on creating opportunities for businesses so they can continue to flourish, and providing quality, cutting-edge services to the public that, as consumers, they so rightly deserve.

Please reject proposals to regulate the Internet and wireless networks.

Respectfully,

Jessica Farrar
