

Upon reading an article quoting Leslie K. Paige with Citizen's Against Government Waste, I feel it necessary to ask that the FCC not move forward in any new regulation of the internet at this time. The article dated October 21, 2009 states that any new regulatory role will necessitate a giant and expensive bureaucracy. This is definitely NOT what America needs at this time.