

There is no need to regulate the internet any more than it already is. This is an attempt to control speech through the back door. Drop this issue now.